

1st Annual BCA Cooking Class

8:00 am to 5:00 pm

Saturday, January 10, 2015

Tee Wayne's Cajun Cooking

39087 Hwy. 621, Gonzales, LA 70401

Get ready for a day of some of the best training in barbecue cooking you can get! Participants will be taught techniques by some of the best competition cooks on the Louisiana barbecue circuit for hands-on classroom and on-site training. The Barbecue Competitors Alliance (BCA) is hosting this 1st annual cooking class at Tee Wayne's Cajun Cooking in Gonzales, Louisiana.

Competition instructors will share their expertise in all aspects of competition in a BCA-style contest using available barbecue pits and supplies. Each participant will learn the following:

- Contest basics and preparation
- Selecting the best meat
- Tips on using a selection of barbecue pits
- Managing cooking time and temperature under contest conditions
- Cooking techniques from the best competition cooks
- Developing your best flavor profiles
- Preparing your contest turn-in boxes
- Understanding contest rules and procedures
- Learning to prepare the best barbecue for the judges
- What do judges really want when they sample barbecue
- How to interpret scores and what do they really mean.

The objective of this class is for participants to cook better barbecue, both to participate in upcoming contests or for personal enjoyment. This cooking class will be completed rain or shine! Bring a notebook, an open mind, and a willingness to learn! The course is scheduled to run from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm. The BCA annual meeting dinner and awards ceremony will take place at the same location as the class at 6:30 pm. Breaks will be taken throughout the day as the schedule allows.
